Celebrating 30 years of Kids Helpline

A lot has changed in 30 years but our energy, drive and innovation to create brighter futures for children and young people remains a constant.

Kids Helpline was launched 25 March 1991. On this day, our counsellors took 3,200 calls. Over the three decades since, Kids Helpline has responded to 8.4 million children and young people.

The ways children and young people choose to interact with us has evolved, particularly with increased use of technology. What hasn't changed is that Kids Helpline continues to support and listen to the needs of children and young people across Australia 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

Your support through buying tickets in our Prize Draws has been the most critical factor enabling and sustaining this vital service.

Thank you for sharing the journey with us and good luck in the draw.

A young Bert Windsor of the Australian Army's 9th Battalion and the ad that changed his life

Celebrating 60 years of yourtown

A lot has changed!

When in 1977 South Australia's Bert Windsor won a Datsun 180B in the then BoysTown Art Union, his life changed forever.

A father of six, he had never owned a car because he could not afford one. He rode an old bicycle to work and rarely went anywhere else.

Winning a car changed everything.

Although a bit of a tight squeeze, the Datsun had limousine status in the Windsor family.

It meant the family could visit friends who lived further than 'just down the road' and also made the occasional holiday possible.

Bert also believed in getting value for money.

Sadly, he passed away in 2002, but according to his niece Christine, he drove the Datsun until he could drive no more.

"One of my lasting memories is of him with his car and how proud he was of it," she said.

"He only sold it in the late 90s when for health reasons he had to give up driving. He hated to give it up. I think it gave him an independence he thought he'd never have."

Bert's lottery ticket cost him 50 cents.

Fifty cents for a car that lasted him 20 years was a good investment. But the change it made to the lives of the Windsor family was priceless.
