Caring for the mental health of kids

They need us, we need you!

Did you know that half of all mental health issues develop before the age of 14?

When you buy an Art Union ticket, you're supporting mental health care for children and young people, as well as having the opportunity to win our latest stunning Prize Home.

We offer a range of services which enhance the mental health of children and young people. Early prevention and intervention can benefit them for the rest of their life. We help them to make positive and healthy choices and deal more effectively with issues affecting their mental health.

yourtown tackles the issues affecting the lives of young people in Australia. Art Unions are the primary source of income for many of our services. Your generous support helps to create brighter futures for children and young people.
