Thank you for bringing our vital services into existence

As we celebrate Draw 500 at yourtown, we must also celebrate the direct impact that the fundraising from these draws has had on the lives of children and young people over the past decades.

It has been you – and thousands of other passionate supporters like you, that have brought vital services into existence, services such as Kids Helpline, Social Enterprises, Employment and Training Initiatives, Refuges and many more.

In addition to services, we have also been able to develop the means to give voice to the issues impacting children and young people through advocacy and engage in research. Combining knowledge from the work we do with children and young people with external research initiatives enables us to build programs for now and into the future.

You are changing young lives and creating brighter futures. Thank you for believing young people are worth the investment. Good luck in the draw.
